Scholars' Nest School believes in the philosophy that its citizenship goal should be to admit children of all castes, religions and colors without distinction, on a wholly residential basis, and inculcate in them a spirit of secularism with no emphasis on any one religion and yet with a respect for all religions.

That its education goal should be to take the best from Indian culture and our rich heritage, adopt the best from school education systems in other countries to our needs and evolve a system of all-round education which will develop its students in their minds, in their physique, in their personality, in their social consciousness- so that the foundations are laid for what should eventually be a good and true citizen of our country-India.

WHY ONLY SCHOLARS' NEST ?

Selecting a school for your child is of prime importance. For in doing so, you are taking a decision about your child's future and the kind of person you would expect your child to become. A decision on behalf of a child who trusts you.

At the Scholars' Nest School, your child will find that learning and education can Scholars' Nest School is a temple where children are encouraged to bloom and blossom into complete individuals.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Since its inception one of the fundamentals of the educational philosophy of this school has been to inculcate in its students a spirit of a social consciousness and service to its countrymen. The Government of India has made Socially Useful Productive Work (SUPW) a compulsory subject in secondary school.

Students give two hours a week of their time in service activities such as Village Development, Adult Education, Child Education, Working in Homes for the Handicapped and Mentally Retarded and Community Service on the campus by way of Tree Planting, Gardening, Road Maintenance, Audio and visual Activities and the like.

The School has mounted a number of Relief Expeditions to disaster areas and brought the boys close to such realities.

Scholars' Nest School is committed to the principle of equal opportunity in education and employment. The school does not discriminate against individuals on the basis of race, color, gender identity, religion, cast & creed, disability, age, ancestry, national or ethnic origin in the administration of its educational policies, admission policies, employment policies and scholarship.

THE FACULTY

In keeping with who are not our philosophy, we carefully select teachers only trained in their field but are also people of integrity and substance. The teachers are fully qualified professionals with plenty of experience.

With classroom strength not exceeding 40 students, teachers are able to devote adequate and personalized attention to every student at the school.

At Scholars' Nest School, the teacher-student relationship is not restricted to the classroom alone and children are encouraged to freely consult teachers on any matter.

CO-CURRICULAR AND EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

At Scholars' Nest School, we lay a lot of stress on the overall development of every child, and equal importance is given to both academic performance and to co-curricular and extra-curricular activities.

To give vent to their self expression, children at Scholars' Nest School, are encouraged to actively participate in co-curricular activities such as debates, elocution, quiz, dance, drama, painting, music and a lot more besides. This not only gives the children an opportunity to realize their talents but also contributes to the development of a well balanced and integrated personality.

Exercise for the mind needs to be complemented by exercise for the body. With this firm belief, At Scholars' Nest School, offer a variety of sport and exercise to students. Cricket, Football, Hockey, Basketball, Badminton, Table Tennis and even Gymnastics are among the sports we encourage children to participate in.

Socially Useful Productive Work

Socially useful productive work may be described as purposive, meaningful, manual work resulting in either goods or services which are useful to the community.

The purpose of demarcating a distinct curricular area as socially useful productive work is to emphasize the principal that education should be work centered.

The aim of the curricular area is to provide children with opportunities of participating in social and economic activities inside and outside the class room, enabling them to understand scientific principles.

In our school the criterion for selection of activities is that the work involved must be productive, educative and socially useful. It has given a dominant place to bridge the gap between bookish learning and practical experience of learning.

The component of social service in the curriculum is allied to socially useful productive work for example, when children participate in an environmental cleanliness program by way of social service, they can simultaneously prepare compost pits for manure.

Education at all stages has been regarded as a powerful instrument for social transformation. The major task of education is to usher a democratic and secular society which removes prejudices among people.

In this program the basic emphasis is in interlinking education and culture that should help child to discover his latent talent and to express it creatively. This can be achieved through a participatory process using their environment, giving special emphasis to curriculum orientation and motivating teachers to interact with students at different levels.

TO PARENTS

A school can do a lot for a child but can not do everything. The home is the place where he gets his first education and training in citizenship. It is the chief place where his character is formed and developed. School education indeed promotes the growth of personality and helps to discover and develop the qualities that are in the children. In order to secure all that is best. In the education of your child, maximum, co-operation between parents and the school authorities is necessary. The task of helping our children to become good citizen is done better through a kind of partnership between the school and the parents. The school desire to have your co-operation and close contact with the teachers of your children in order to develop an atmosphere that is conducive to better and more effective education. As your child advances in age, guide him to become a resourceful and useful member of the home, society and the country. Encourage self-help for work and study. He should be taught to keep his room tidy, make his own bed, polish his own shoes, carry his own bag etc. The formation of such habits early in the life inculcates in him the idea of dignity of work, which is fundamental personal virtue necessary for a successful career in life.
